1st of the 13 moon imperatives to revert from male dominance to Matrilineal Authority

As we move into this time where it is becoming obvious that something we are doing as a collective of (self identified) human beings, is causing untold destruction to our Mother Earth. It is the responsibility of all true beings to identify the root cause of our destructive actions, so that we may effect real positive change that deals with the real issues as opposed to the “band-aid solutions” that the governments of this world have us locked into.

We can easily identify that through our economic practice of capitalism, our Mother Earth's resources are being consumed out of existence. This in turn has tipped the balance of life on our Mother Earth from constant renewal, to that of a death struggle. This identifies that the mental state of the people (everyone) who are engaged in such an activity is that of irrational human beings but yet, we have glorified our conduct to be that of highly intelligent and rational human beings.

There is obviously a contradiction between our human behaviour and what we identify as human intelligence, implying that there is an imbalance within our human identity. We must ask ourselves, what type of imbalance would have to occur in order for us to kill the very element which has given us life, the same element that we cannot live without? This behaviour of killing our Mother Earth is the very same behaviour that has oppressed, raped and murdered women for thousands of years within the non-native societies of male dominance, locking this world into a perpetual state of war.

This of course, is the imbalance between the women and the men, catalyzed through European style male dominance, which has been effected through all man made religions. This psychosis empowered man-made governments to totally disregard the female power, which in turn has unleashed capitalism to strangle our Mother Earth to death.

In order to repair the destruction we have caused we must restore the balance between the Women and the Men. Through the indigenous knowledge of Turtle Island, of the Two Row Wampum Peace Treaty under the Great Law of Peace, all men of this world must assist matrilineal authority to rise back into power.

Man must consciously work to free the female from all restrictions in whatever form that the male entity has constructed. This must be done through identifying that “man” has restricted the female from her rightful role within creation. Thus, every male must make a conscious effort to correct these restrictions that we ourselves have perpetuated to this day through multigenerational conformism to the ultimate crime of male domination.

Our ceremonies are paramount; we must honour and revere the female entity in every possible aspect of human interaction. In order to facilitate the balance back into effect the men must constantly speak of and remind that; male dominance is not something that occurred naturally, contrarily it is something that has come about through the very real, very violent process of female oppression, rape and murder under man-made religions.

All men who are in a position of authority or influence must embody and convey this to all whom they may have influence upon in order to facilitate a peaceful transition to what must be done to save our Mother Earth, the return to female authority and the balance within us.
